ASSU, AWS Filing Days Announced by Van Sickle

Filing dates for ASSU and AWS offices for 1961-62 will be Feb. 13 to 17, closing at 1 p.m., Friday, Feb. 17, according to Jim Van Sickle, elections board co-ordinator.

Primary elections for the offices will be Thursday, March 2. Final elections will be Thursday, March 9. All election results will be announced in The Spectator.

Student body offices open for filing are: president, first vice president, second vice president, secretary, treasurer, and publicity director. The office of executive secretary is not open for filing as the position will be filled by a presidential appointee.

Senate Studies Prom Cancellation

Action which could result in the cancellation of the Junior Prom from the S.U. social calendar is scheduled to be discussed at a meeting of the Student Senate Feb. 12. The meeting will be in Pigott Auditorium instead of the conference room to enable a larger number of spectators to participate.

A SENATE COMMITTEE, appointed by ASSU president Tom Kearns, met Wednesday to discuss the financial problems of the annual dance. Senate chairman Dave Irwin told The Spectator that since the Junior Prom consistently runs in the red, each class is eager to obtain dates on the activity calendar.

Through other social events, the classes endeavor to recoup anticipated prom losses. But by tying up the calendar, other clubs on campus are prevented from having money-making activities, especially mixers.

THREE ALTERNATIVES were presented at the Wednesday meeting: Completely cancelling the event, a student levy for day students to be added to the activities fee, or taking the dance out of the junior class' jurisdiction and running it under an ASSU appropriation.

The last suggestion was presented to the Senate in the form of a bill Jan. 15. While passing the Senate by a 12-5 vote, the bill to ask the Financial Board to appropriate $1,000 was vetoed by Kearns. Kearns told the Senate that while the ASSU finances were in good shape presently there was no way to foretell future financial conditions. The ASSU usually must pay any prom deficit.

KEARNS ADDED he would appoint a committee to investigate the problem of the traditional deficit. The committee which met Wednesday was appointed last Sunday to carry on that investigation.

In addition to Irwin, senators on the committee include sophomore Dick Peterson, juniors Mike Flynn and Mike Fisher, and seniors George Van Hollebeke and Ferdie Reichlin.

REGARDING cancellation of the prom, junior class president Jerry Flynn said he would oppose cancellation of the prom this year as the class of '62 is operating in the black and plans are well under way for this year's event.

There has been no indication, however, that any legislation would affect the 1961 dance.

Irwin noted that the Senate traditionally opposes additional student levies. He added that under the ASSU constitution the Senate has jurisdiction to cancel any event put on by a member of the association.

THE SENATE committee will continue its investigation of the prom problem and welcomes suggestions from students. Ideas can be presented to any member of the investigating committee or will be accepted at the Feb. 12 Senate meeting.

Y.D.'s Planning to Circulate Youth Peace Corps Petitions

Petitions indicating S.U. students' support of the Youth Peace Corps proposed by President John F. Kennedy will be circulated on campus in the near future. Word of the petitions was released by Bill Montgomery, president of the campus Young Democrats Club.

The signed petitions will be sent to Washington, D.C.

Annual Songfest Set for March 10

The annual songfest has been scheduled for March 10 in Pigott Auditorium, according to Jim Kriley and Kathy Kelly, co-chairmen.

SINGING GROUPS wishing to compete should contact either the co-chairmen or Ed Chow, ASSU 2nd vice president.

The groups will be classified in three divisions: men's, women's and mixed. A trophy will be awarded to the winner in each division. A grand sweepstakes trophy will be awarded for the best in all divisions.

A SLIGHT CHANGE in the ruling will be necessary this year, according to Chow. Individuals will not be allowed to participate in more than one group.

STUDENTS will be asked to sign the petition thus showing they endorse the plan outlined by the President during his successful campaign. The plan, while not originated by Kennedy — it was originally proposed by Senator Hubert Humphrey in the 86th Congress—did not receive any apparent active support until the recent campaign.

THE Y. D.'s hope to enlist support for the petition from other clubs on campus, including Young Republicans and the International Relations Clubs.

On the tentative schedule is a Peace Corps rally on campus, Montgomery said. A guest speaker would be invited to explain the aspects of the movement, the Y.D. president added.

Resident students will now have a voice in the planning of meal menus by way of a food committee, according to Mike Reynolds, Xavier Hall president.

The committee has scheduled its first meeting Wednesday. Members will meet once each subsequent month to approve the next month's menus. Members of the committee may reject parts of the menus.

THOSE ON the committee are: Fr. Edmund B. McNulty, S.J., business manager; Fr. Robert Rehbach, S.J., dean of students; Miss Agnes E. Reilly, dean of women; a dietician from the home economics de-

Jazz Groups Asked To Spring Festival

Jazz groups representing S.U. have been invited to participate in the Spring Jazz Festival May 6 at the U.W., Ed Chow, second vice president, said Wednesday.

GROUPS interested in auditioning must submit a tape containing at least three selections by March 17. A board of music judges will then select the finalists to appear at the May session.

Any type of jazz group is eligible, according to the invitation, although the sponsoring organizations will not consider rock-and-roll as jazz. A majority of the members of the musical combo must be regularly enrolled here to represent the school.

A TROPHY will be awarded the school whose group is judged to be the best in the festival. Schools from the Northwest have been asked to enter.

Further details can be obtained from Chow.

partment; members of the food staff; Anne Donovan, Interhall Council president; and Reynolds.

Representatives from other living groups may attend the meetings.

REYNOLDS SAID meal tickets for lunches will be sold to resident students for $25 each quarter. The purchase of these tickets will not be obligatory. They may be used in the Chieftain or in Marycrest and Xavier snack bars on school days. They will provide a lunch worth 75 cents, but actual cost to the student will average about 41 cents per meal.

Friend of University Dies

By JANET MARCKX

Prominent Seattle men had been discussing in 1956 Seattle University's need for a commerce and finance building with the Very Rev. A. A. Lemieux, S.J., University president.

On Dec. 8 of that year, Mr. Paul Pigott walked into Fr. Lemieux's office. "We want Seattle University to have that building," he said. "Some friends will give one-half million dollars for it."

"Some friends" were Paul Pigott. He made the major contribution for the building named after his father.

After an operation to remove a brain tumor, Paul Pigott died a little before noon last Monday in St. Mary's Hospital near the Mayo clinic in Rochester, Minn.

LAST TUESDAY and Wednesday white-uniformed Spurs represented the feelings of the S.U. students at the rosary and funeral for the benefactor. Many classes were cancelled Wednesday so that faculty and students could attend Requiem Mass in St. James Cathedral. The Very Rev. John B. Janssens, General of the Society of Jesus, cabled his condolence from Rome and promised 100 masses for Mr. Pigott.

The Pigott Building, named after Paul Pigott's father, reflects his father's interest in Seattle College and the responsibility Paul Pigott felt to aid Catholic institutions and Catholic education.

BESIDES MAKING possible the Pigott Building, he sponsored the Stanford Research study here, gave annual gifts from 1950 to 1956, financed scholarships for many needy students and served as a member of the S.U. board of regents since the board was organized in 1951. As a benefactor, Mr. Pigott insisted in remaining anonymous. Many students attend S.U. on scholarships without knowing that Paul Pigott was paying for their education.

Fr. Lemieux went to Rochester and was with Mr. Pigott before and immediately after the operation, administering the last sacraments. Remaining thoughtful and unselfish, Paul Pigott was concerned with his family and his friends, Father said.

FR. LEMIEUX was a close friend of Mr. Pigott for many years. He took Fr. President to Europe in 1958. They visited Lourdes and Pope Pius XII, one month before the death of the Pope.

Mr. Pigott was named by Pius XII as a knight commander in the Order of Knights of St. Gregory the Great in 1957 for his active interest in Seattle University and Catholic education.

He was president of the Pacific Car and Foundry Co., a director of the Boeing Airplane Co., Standard Oil of California, the Seattle-First National Bank and a trustee of the Washington Mutual Savings Bank. He served on numerous committees for charitable and civic groups.

DR. WALTER MOORE, member of the board of regents, described the death as "a great loss to Seattle University. He was one who can't be replaced."

The Seattle Times in an editorial commented: "This community will sorely miss his guidance and his zeal."

OUTSIDE of his own family, no other group in Seattle will more sorely miss Mr. Pigott than his "second" family—Seattle University.

The best tribute Seattle University can give to Mr. Pigott will be in the lives of students and graduates. Wherever and whenever they succeed, their success in part will be because of Mr. Paul Pigott. May that tribute continue for ages!

Wheelchair Athlete Demonstrates Skill

By GRETCHEN FREDERICK

"Wheelchair basketball," popular sport of the handicapped, was demonstrated by Terry Lee Hildebrand last week in an adapted P. E. class.

FOLLOWING A GYMNASTIC accident in November, 1959—while attending the U. of W.—Terry spent many months in a hospital. Paralyzed from the waist down, he was faced with the possibility that he might never get out of bed. Yet he arrived home the following July and enrolled at S.U. in September. Within a short time, he became active on campus.

Terry, a pre-major, is carrying 13 hours this quarter in addition to participating in various functions in the athletic department. He assists gymnasts, coaches in teaching gymnastics and demonstrates for adapted physical education classes. He has also helped in P.E. orientation courses.

RATED BY FELLOW-gymnasts and teachers when he was in gymnastics as "one of the best," Terry has recently been asked to judge meets at various high schools. Last Saturday, he participated in the judging of his old "alma mater," Highline, which, he said, lost for the first time in five years. Terry worked in gymnastics there with Dale Shirley and Frank Gatto, who are also attending S.U.

In regard to life on campus, Terry thinks it's the greatest. In his own words, "I sure do like S.U.; everybody is so friendly!"

Dave Irwin Gives Impressions Of Inauguration Ceremonies

Dave Irwin, S.U.'s first vice president and regional chairman for the Young Democrats, spent last week in Washington, D.C. attending the inauguration of John F. Kennedy. Irwin summed up his impressions of the city and the inauguration ceremonies in two words, "immensely exciting!"

ON THE INAUGURATION: "There was a feeling of excitement in the air that permeated the intense cold. President Kennedy's address was listened to in complete silence and there were tears in many eyes when he finished."

"An amusing aspect of the inauguration was the Senators' and Congressmen's wives seated on the platform wrapped in furs with blankets over their shoulders. The back of the blankets carried the name of every big hotel in town."

ON THE INAUGURATION BALL: "It was packed with people. There was very little dancing and there seemed to be a game among the men to see how many elbows they could bump. There was many a fine dress with fine wine spilled down the front."

ON THE TAXI DRIVERS: "These drivers were really interesting. They had a theory about solving the problems of the world and they didn't have to be asked to tell it. The minute you got into a cab you got a free lesson on contemporary politics."

ON THE PEOPLE HE MET: "I visited Gene Cresake, who was co-ordinator of the Kennedy campaign here in the state of Washington and who was also in charge of the tickets to the inauguration. He was very helpful in getting us oriented."

"I watched the inauguration parade from Congressman Rooney's office. He took me through his gallery of pictures and we had quite a talk on Democratic politics."

"I VISITED Congressman Magnuson and had a 45-minute discussion with him. I also talked with Senator Jackson, Congressman Tom Pelly and Governor Rosellini. All these men are really showing a united front for the promotion of Century 21."

ON THE CITY: "There seemed to be a real feeling of activity and good-will in Washington, D.C. Everyone seems to feel that there are big changes coming up. There also seems to be a feeling of antagonism against the military."

"All in all, it was a fantastic round of cocktail parties and balls, a week of history. I was privileged to be there."

Senate Slaps Ski Club With Fine

By WALT WILSON

The Student Senate fined the Ski Club $50 last Sunday for improper handling of the Sitzmark Stomp, Jan. 20.

Senators acted after hearing reports about infractions of mixer regulations.

FR. ROBERT REBHAWN, S.J., dean of students, told the Senate that the Ski Club did not furnish an adequate clean-up crew and did not have enough chaperones.

Fr. Rebhawn commented on the atmosphere of the mixer. "I had to ask five to leave," he said. "They had been drinking. None of the five came from S.U.," he continued.

"Something will have to be done to regulate these activities better," Father said. "I do not intend to be an ordained bouncer."

SENATORS SAID that the fine money would go into the general fund of the ASSU.

The Senate followed ASSU President Tom Kearns' recommendation to study means to finance the Junior Prom. Kearns vetoed last week a senate bill which would have provided $1,000 to the junior class for the prom.

A COMMITTEE will consider other solutions to the prom finance problem.

The Senate defined a traditional event. A measure passed which limited the meaning of traditional event to one which has taken place for at least five consecutive years, which has been so classified by the Senate, and whose date shall be set annually by the 2nd vice president of the ASSU. The date shall be uncontestable.

Bob Burnham, who submitted the measure, said it clarified and legalized what has been taking place.

fied and legalized what has been taking place.

APPROVED AS "traditional" by the Senate were the Junior Prom, the ROTC ball and Homecoming.

Jim Van Sickle's appointment as election board co-ordinator was unanimously approved.

In other action, the senate completed S.U.'s quota for the United Good Neighbor fund by appropriating $85 from the ASSU general fund. The appropriation followed a contract approved last year.

Ducks Next on S.U. Menu

By R. LEO PENNE

S.U.'s Chieftains will attempt to extend their winning streak to six by shooting the Oregon Ducks and grounding Portland's Pilots in the next five days.

Saturday, the Chiefs will battle on the Webfoots' home pond in Eugene, Ore. So far this season, Oregon has compiled an 8-5 record. Against the Chieftains they are expected to use a man-to-man defense. Offensively, the Ducks play pattern ball.

COACH VINCE Cazzetta plans to open the game with a man-to-man defense. Dave Mills will cover Oregon's big man, 6-7 Glen Moore, while Ray Butler has drawn the chore of holding down high scorer, Charley Warren. The other sure starter is Eddie Miles.

S.U.'s '61 Homecoming game will be against Portland U. next Tuesday at 8:00 p.m. in the Ice Arena. The Chiefs have squeaked by the Pilots in two previous games this season by two points in one and by seven in the other.

THE PORTLANDERS will try to slow the Chiefs, using a deliberate set-play offense. The Pilots alternate from zone to man-to-man defense to keep the opposing team off balance.

Outstanding boys from the Rose City are the two big men, Bill Garner 6-9, and Art Easterly 6-5, and a slender 6-0 guard, Frank Bosone. Garner, a junior, has been compared to the Boston Celtic's Bill Russell. The comparison seems to have some validity as the Pilots are the only team that has out-rebounded S.U. this season.

CAZZETTA has not decided on his starting lineup but will probably have Mills, Miles, and Butler in at the opening whistle against Portland. Defensively, the Chiefs may use anything from man-to-man (sagging or otherwise) to a zone press if the Pilots try their stalling tactics.

On offense, the Chieftains will utilize both their running game and set patterns.

DAVE MILLS COLLECTS TWO of his 53 points against Gonzaga and Montana State last weekend. Richie Brennan, S.U. center, keeps Gonzaga's All-American candidate Frank Burgess out of the play. Eddie Miles, sophomore guard, kept pace with Mills, scoring 54 points in the two games. S.U. defeated Gonzaga 86 to 84 and Montana State, 80 to 70.

Little Chiefs Dump Pups But Are Trimmed in Two

The S.U. Papooses defeated their cross-town rivals, the U.W. Pups, but dropped games to Everett and Federal this week.

Jerry Tardie, Papoose guard, led the "Little Chiefs" to a 76-70 win over the "Miniature Huskies," with 29 points, 15 of them coming in the last five minutes.

THE PAPOOSES made it a come-from-behind win after trailing 41-34 at the half.

The S.U. win put them one game up on the Pups in the 17-game series between the two frosh clubs since 1950.

Other scorers for the Papooses were Greg Vermillion, 19; George Griffin, 11, and Steve Sander, 10.

The Papooses lost to the Everett J.C. Trojans, 62-47, Tuesday, in a non-conference game. Tardie again paced the squad with 12 points, Vermillion collected eight.

Federal Old Line handed the freshmen an 82-66 loss, in a Northwest League game. Vermillion took scoring honors with 21, Griffin and Sander followed with 16 and 14 respectively.

Films of Elgin's Record, Chiefs—NYU Scheduled

Elgin Baylor will "re-score" his N.B.A. record of 71 points in a film at 8:45 p.m., Monday, in Pigott Auditorium.

BAYLOR, playing for the Los Angeles Lakers, went on the scoring splurge against the New York Knickerbockers in an N.B.A. basketball game this season.

The film of the 1952 S.U.-New York University game also will be shown. Donation is 35 cents.

HOW SMALL CAN YOU GET?

Today let us address ourselves to a question that has long rocked and roiled the academic world: Is a student better off at a small college than at a large college?

To answer this question it is necessary first to define terms. What, exactly, do we mean by a small college? Well sir, some say that in order to be called truly small, a college should have an enrollment of not more than four students.

I certainly have no quarrel with this statement; a four-student college must unquestionably be called small. Indeed, one could even call it intime if one knew what intime meant. But I submit there is such a thing as being too small. Take, for instance, a recent unfortunate occurrence at Crimscott A and M.

Crimscott A and M, situated in a pleasant valley nestled between Denver and Baltimore, was founded by A. and M. Crimscott, two brothers who left Ireland in 1706 to escape the potato famine of 1841. As a result of their foresight, the Crimscott brothers never went without potatoes for one single day of their lives—and mighty grateful they were! One night, full of gratitude after a hearty meal of French fries, cottage fries, hash browns, and au gratin, they decided to show their appreciation to this bountiful land of potatoes by endowing a college. They stipulated that enrollment should never exceed four students because they felt that only by keeping the college this small could each student be assured of the personalized attention, the camaraderie, the feeling of belonging, that is all too often lacking in higher education.

Well sir, things went along swimmingly until one Saturday a few years ago. On this day Crimscott had a football game scheduled against Minnesota, its traditional rival. Football was, of course, something of a problem at Crimscott, what with only four students enrolled in the entire college. It was easy enough to muster a backfield, but finding a good line—or even a bad line—baffled the most resourceful coaching minds in the country.

Well sir, on the morning of the big game against Minnesota, its traditional rival, a capricious destiny dealt Crimscott a cruel blow—in fact, four cruel blows. Sigafos, the quarterback, woke up that morning with the breakbone fever. Wrichards, the slotback, was unable to start his motorcycle. Beerbohm-Tree, the wingback-tailback, got his necktie caught in his espresso machine. Langerhans, the fullback, was stolen by gypsies.

Consequently, alas, none of the Crimscott team showed up at the game, and Minnesota, its traditional rival, was able to score almost at will. Crimscott was so out of sorts that they immediately broke off football relations with Minnesota, its traditional rival. This later became known as the Dred Scott Decision.

So you can see how only four students might be too small an enrollment. The number I personally favor is twenty. How come? Because when you have twenty students and one of them opens a pack of Marlboro Cigarettes, there are enough to go around for everybody, and no one has to be deprived of Marlboro's fine, mild flavor, of Marlboro's easy-drawing filter, of Marlboro's joy and zest and steadfast companionship, and as a result you have a student body that is filled with sweet content and amity and harmony and concord and togetherness and soft pack and flip-top box.

That's how come.

Second place in sports is not always something to be desired. However, when S.U. placed second in the Far West Classic at Portland last month, No. 2 on the ladder looked pretty good—at least good enough to merit a trip back.

That's why head coach Vince Cazzetta and Chieftain fans alike were somewhat stunned when S.U. was left out in the selection of teams for next year's tournament. At a sportwriters' luncheon last Friday, Coach Cazzetta announced that he was puzzled at the board's failure to ask S.U. to return.

THIS WEEK Cazzetta explained it this way: The board that selects the teams for the tournament had asked athletic director Eddi O'Brien to hold open the dates of next year's tournament. This was done. The fact that the board told O'Brien to hold open the dates was some indication of intent.

So, when the Chiefs weren't invited, Coach Cazzetta was disappointed and puzzled. His reasoning is that the tourney officials didn't want another Northwest team. Cazzetta felt that perhaps in years to come, S.U. will alternate with Idaho.

AS OF NOW, the teams in the tourney are: Oregon State, University of Oregon, Idaho, Washington State University, University of Portland, Michigan, Michigan State and University of California. Arizona State also was not asked to return.

"I was disappointed for the fans," said Cazzetta. "If we participate in any other tournament away from home, it will be hard for the fans to attend," Cazzetta said. The Chieftain mentor was pleased with the performance of his charges at the tourney and said, "I think we put on as fine a show as can be expected. Second place in an eight-team tournament isn't too bad," said Cazzetta. "There isn't much that can be done," he explained. "After all, it's an invitational tournament and we can't invite ourselves."

ALTHOUGH Coach Cazzetta was genial about the incident, the fact remains that we were asked to hold the dates and then were snubbed. We were put out on a limb and then cut off. Cazzetta said that he had received offers to play in other tournaments throughout the country but preferred a tourney close to home.

There was the New York Holiday Classic, the All-College tourney in Oklahoma, the Evansville tournament and the Blue Bonnet tourney. There still is a chance to play in one of these tournaments, but the chances are slim.

Sailors to Race Northwest Schools

By MARY LOU MAY

S.U.'s Sailing Club (recently changed to S.U. Yacht Club) will be host at a sailing regatta tomorrow and Sunday at the Seattle Yacht Club.

Members of the Northwest Intercollegiate Yachting Association who will participate in the regatta are: University of British Columbia, U. of W., U.P.S., Western Washington College and S.U.

SAILING TEAMS WILL compete in a series of 11 races. The main events will be tomorrow from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The run-offs will take place on Sunday.

Each school will enter four boats. The boats used in the races are 14 foot Penguins, having one sail and manned by two sailors. Sailing for S.U. are Mike Solon, Mike Conlan, Jerry O'Hogan and Steve Holtschlag.

The S.U. Yacht Club has won two third places in the past year. On Nov. 12 in Vancouver, B.C., S.U. took third place out of a possible four places.

PRESENTLY, SOLON, the most experienced skipper in the club, is instructing the members of the S.U. Sailing Club. He is giving lectures on the art of sailing, types of boats, riggings, parts of boats and safety rules.

Before becoming a skipper, a member of the Sailing Club must be a competent crew, sailing with the skipper and aiding him with riggings, center board and trimming (balancing) the boat.

Two Teams Undeclared In 3 Weeks of Intramurals

Bordeaux and Htuos Edis, sporting 3-0 records, lead the intramural quintets into the third week of play.

In Tuesday's first game, the Deadbeats squeaked by the Warriors, 42 to 30. Larry Daly and Jack Driscoll combined efforts for 31 of the Deadbeats' 42 total.

In the second game, Htuos Edis rolled over the ARC's, 50 to 37.

In the first game on Monday, the Intellectuals trounced the D.B.'s, 52 to 32. Harold Gecker pumped in 23 to lead the strong Bordeaux team to a 42 to 33 win over the Mafia in a feature game on Monday.

FRANK GARTLAND of the Losers scored the only two points in a sudden-death overtime period which was played Monday to determine a disputed game between the Losers and the ARC's from the previous week. Gartland's basket made the final score 50 to 48 in favor of the Losers.

Friday, the Hustlers defeated the Warriors, 51 to 28, and the highly-touted Htuos Edis beat the Losers, 69 to 44.
